CHANGED MONETARY POLICY IN U.S. MAY BE ANNOUNCED SOON

Close Study Being Made of Purchasing Power of Dollar Gives Rise to Much Speculation as to Probable Line of Action—Strikes Take Added Impetus in Several Industries

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP).—Financial handymen of President Roosevelt bent to a close study of the monetary outlook with Dr. James H. Rogers, of Yale, today, giving rise to numerous reports that some change involving the purchasing power of the dollar was in early prospect.

Some persons familiar with the situation expected Mr. Roosevelt to announce a monetary policy this week. Some of his economic advisers have been studying the commodity dollar plan, under which the monetary unit would have a presumably constant purchasing power, with its buying ability lowered by reducing the gold content or increased by adding to it. Price trends, as shown by commodity indices, would govern the variation of the gold content of such a dollar.

MAINTAINS SILENCE
Rogers, one of several close economic advisers of the chief executive, maintained a friendly but effective silence on what might be done.

Apac with the activity in departmental circles, advocates of inflation were quietly planning a campaign in the next Congress for monetary expansion by legislative edict, unless they are satisfied with what President Roosevelt does before then.

STRIKES ARE INCREASING
Meanwhile, strikes in several industrial centres took an added impetus yesterday, hindering production in a variety of lines, from automobile bodies to bread.

The workers' protests were based largely on the charge that employers did not comply with the spirit of the N.R.A., in its recognition of labor.

SENTENCED FOR CRUEL ROBBERY
Vancouver Confidence Man Is Sent to Prison for Five-Year Term

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP).—William Smith, alias Leslie Barton, thirty, was found guilty in county court today of conspiring to rob $7,380 from Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, of Stratford, Ont., and was sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

"I can see nothing in extenuation of your offence," Judge Ellis said before pronouncing sentence. "You did a cruel thing in taking money from these innocent people, money which I have no doubt represents life-long savings."

FOR STOCK SCHEME
According to the evidence, Campbell, sixty-two, retired Canadian National Railway employee, met Smith and an alleged accomplice known as Reginald Burbank, July last, and, with his wife, was prevailed on to give the two men money ostensibly to make $190,000 in a stock market scheme.

Later the Campbells were advised their money and a sum supposedly put up by Burbank was lost through a mistake in the stock transaction and they were given railway tickets to Montreal, where Burbank promised to meet them and help recoup their losses. He failed to appear.

A $1,000 BAIL
Smith had been arrested several days after the Campbells left when he tried to cash a $1,000 bill at a bank here and was held for investigation. When the police were informed of the Campbells' plight the bill was identified as one included in the $7,380 the Ontario couple had turned over to Smith and Burbank and a charge was laid against Smith. Burbank has not been located.

LEAVES FOR U.S. TO DISCUSS DEBT
Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, British Economic Adviser, Sails From Southampton

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 27 (AP).—Three British officials, including Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, Government economic adviser, sailed today, for the United States, ready to discuss war debts with President Roosevelt.

Sir Frederick, while saying his plans were indefinite, declared he was visiting America "to observe the feeling toward the question of the war debts."

The other members of the party were Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to the United States, and F. K. Brewster, treasury official, who has been attached to the Washington Embassy.

Storm Takes Heavy Toll of Life Along the Mediterranean

MARSEILLES, Sept. 27 (AP).—Sixteen dead and two missing was the known toll tonight of storms and floods which affected a fifty-mile strip from Toulon to the Pyrenees along the Mediterranean. It was feared other lives also have been lost.

Among the dead were seven members of one family, who drowned at Montpellier when their house collapsed under the weight of flood waters.

Immediate aid, especially food and money, were asked by authorities at Sommieres. Farm crops and vineyards suffered heavy damage.

Hall Rings When League Assembly Greets Dollfuss

Deafening Applause Answers Austrian Chancellor's Appeal for Support in Fight Against Nazism—Canadian Pleads for Abolition of Private Manufacture of Munitions

GENEVA, Sept. 27 (CP).—The highlight of the fourteenth meeting of the League of Nations Assembly came late today when the short, brisk figure of Engelbert Dollfuss, Austria's pocket-size Chancellor, who has been waging a heroic battle against Nazism, stepped quickly to the rostrum and appealed for support, to be greeted with deafening applause from the assembled statesmen.

Earlier, Canada's Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, pleaded for leadership to wards disarmament and world peace, and coupled this with a declaration that the private manufacture of armaments for profit should be abolished.

FIRST HELP IS FROM THE AIR
Food and Medicine Arrive at Tampico—Train Follows Repair Gang

TAMPICO, Mexico, Sept. 27 (AP).—An airplane, carrying Minister of the Interior Eduardo Vasconcelos with food supplies, doctors and medicine, landed here late today, bringing the first relief to a city still prostrated by Sunday's hurricane.

With soldiers repairing tracks ahead of a laboring locomotive, a relief train was slowly poking its way toward Tampico from San Luis Potosi.

IS REAL MENACE
Danger from spread of disease still presented a real menace. Before the relief plane arrived, authorities had resorted to compulsory vaccination of suburban residents as a precaution.

No further official check of the death toll is believed possible. An estimate placed the dead at seventy-four and the injured at 850. But it was believed many bodies were washed out to sea and the total dead never will be known.

AIR PILOTS HAVE MIRACULOUS ESCAPE
EDMONTON, Sept. 27 (CP).—Two Edmonton pilots had a miraculous escape from death when their Moho airplane crashed at Port Saskatchewan today. Ronald Hall, pilot, and Leonard Waagen were aboard the machine.

HUGE PROTEST DEMONSTRATION TIES UP COMMERCE IN CUBA

Says Japan Must Keep Balance of Maritime Power

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27 (AP).—Count Y. Yanagishima, former chairman of the budget committee of the Japanese House of Peers, declared today that if the United States increases her navy, "Japan will be forced to do likewise, to maintain the equilibrium of maritime power in the Pacific."

Arriving here from Yokohama, the count is on his way to Mexico City to attend the twenty-fourth session of the International Conference on Statistics.

NO WELSHER SAYS POOLEY
Will Stick by Premier—New Minister Addresses Audience

Cheering broke out when Hon. R. H. Pooley, K.C., announced he was "with Premier Toomey to the last ditch" at the Unionist rally at Sanichion last evening. Hon. William Savage also was applauded for a fine maiden speech.

"I never did like a Welsher," the Attorney-General declared. "I have been in politics for twenty-two years and I have seen some hard knocks given. I want to say that no man has been worse treated in British Columbia than Doctor Toomey. And let me say this, some newspaper owners should change their managers if they have the interests of the country at heart."

Mr. Pooley asserted the C.C.F. movement was being aided by Communists, who look for the high tide of the sea and have been around since the C.C.F. would in turn, be eaten up by the Communist element, which would then be the present leaders.

RECEIVES GREAT PERSONAL OVATION
In plain, simple terms Premier Toomey laid his cards on the table before the electors of British Columbia last evening, speaking in his home constituency in Sanichion at the opening of the Unionist campaign there. He made an eloquent appeal, placing himself and his political fortunes in the hands of the electorate, and declared he sought only to serve the best interests of the people of the Province as a whole.

"To win or lose, the Premier is going into the fight at the head of the Unionist movement. He is leaving ultimate leadership in the Legislature open to decision among Unionists and Independents later, should these be successful at the polls."

THOUSANDS ARE KILLED IN INVASION
NANKING, Sept. 28 (AP).—A semi-official dispatch from Poochow today said 17,000 persons, including large numbers of students, were killed during a recent Communist invasion in Northwest Fukien Province.

The message also stated Government troops have annihilated a band of 3,000 Communists.

PRISON ROUTINE FOLLOWS RIOTS
Trouble With Convicts All Over at Philadelphia Warden Declares

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27 (AP).—With sixty-eight convicts segregated for judgment, Pennsylvania's eastern penitentiary returned to normal today, after one of the worst riots in its century of history.

But in the centre house, off-duty guards and helmeted State troopers waited for any recurrence of the outbreak which 600 Philadelphia police and firemen helped quell early today.

SIX INJURED
Six men, including the warden and a chaplain, were injured seriously enough to require infirmary treatment as prisoners raged in their cells, set mattresses afire and attacked officers who tried to enter the cells to extinguish the flames.

Warden Herbert J. Smith expressed the opinion the trouble was over the convicts' desire for more food. Smith surprised guards and extra police this afternoon by ordering all prisoners not in "solitary" or "disciplinary" cells to be allowed their period of recreation in the prison yard. Smoking a cigar and unarmed, Smith walked among the men.

"Prison routine is going on as usual," he said.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYER KILLED AT FOOTBALL
CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 27 (AP).—One high school football player is dead and another is undergoing examination as the result of a head-on collision during a scrimmage yesterday. Daniel J. Rodden, Jr., sixteen, died late last night. He collided with Harry Shellenbarger. Both were knocked unconscious and Rodden suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

Possibility of Serious Racial Trouble Foreseen While Labor Situation Grows Increasingly Acute—Spanish Regional Societies Object to Practising Physicians Decree

Sixty Thousand Take Part in Parade to Palace at Havana

HAVANA, Sept. 27 (AP).—Commerce throughout Cuba came to a standstill tonight as thousands of members and sympathizers of the various Spanish regional societies registered public protest against a decree of the Grau San Martin Government. Meanwhile, the labor situation in several sections of the island became more acute. A six-hour general strike in Havana was scheduled for Friday. Communists were active in some places, new demands were made by strikers at others and unconfirmed reports of a new revolutionary outbreak were received.

Beyond all this, persons high in political circles foresaw the possibility of serious racial trouble.

WOULD STOP PRIVATE ARMS SHOPPING
Approximately 80,000 demonstrators participated in the protest meeting of the Spanish societies, held in Havana, which was climaxed by a parade to the palace. The protests were aimed at a recent decree of the President, which compelled all practising physicians in Cuba to become members of the National Medical Federation. The decree would have the effect of forcing the Spanish societies to meet certain demands of federal physicians, particularly with regard to the fees to be charged members of the societies for medical service.

The streets were heavily guarded as the demonstrators assembled in Central Park and Fraternity Park, both in the centre of uptown Havana. The prospects of a counter demonstration loomed as medical students passed out handbills saying they would stage their own manifestation despite lack of permission.

ON GUARD AT CAPITAL
Street car and motor traffic was held to a standstill. A heavy guard of infantry went on guard at the capital.

Spanish speakers addressed the crowds from the balcony of the Centro Gallego Building, the home of one of the larger Spanish societies, across the Prado from Central Park. One speaker concluded his address with the cry: "Down with the Medical Federation!"

During the demonstration, the President, surrounded by heavy military guard, rode in his official car to the palace. There was only a little cheering from the crowd. A cavalry unit was placed in front of the palace.

FIRE CAUSE OF INTENSE EXCITEMENT
BAYONNE, N.J., Sept. 27 (AP).—A tube split in a cracking coil still system in the hook plant of the Tidewater Oil Company tonight started a fire that caused little damage but great excitement in the city.

The show of smoke and flames was spectacular and most of the city's fire-fighting apparatus responded to the alarm, along with two ambulances. No one was injured and the company's own firemen quickly extinguished the blaze.

THOUSANDS ARE KILLED IN INVASION
NANKING, Sept. 28 (AP).—A semi-official dispatch from Poochow today said 17,000 persons, including large numbers of students, were killed during a recent Communist invasion in Northwest Fukien Province.

The message also stated Government troops have annihilated a band of 3,000 Communists.

STRIKE SITUATION IN ONTARIO CITY TENSE AS SOLDIERS ARRIVE
Stratford Workers Demand Resignation of Mayor—Reopening of Factories Is Planned Under Police Protection

STRATFORD, Ont., Sept. 27 (CP).—A large crowd of Stratford workers tonight passed a resolution demanding immediate withdrawal of troops brought here in connection with a tense strike situation and resignation of Mayor George I. Graff.

The resolution, read to the meeting by J. Cousens, of the Chamber of Commerce, denounced the presence of troops and urged the reopening of factories and the plant of the Swift Canadian Company, a meat-packing concern, remained guarded in the armories. They were armed, equipped with steel helmets and had four small tanks with them.

EXPECT TO REOPEN
Executives of five furniture companies said they would reopen their factories tomorrow. Representatives of 800 workers who have been on strike for almost two weeks, said, however, the workers would not return. Reopening of the factories will take place with police protection, and troops will remain in the armories unless circumstances "arise with which the police are unable to cope." The situation was quiet tonight.

MURDER CHARGE FOLLOWS BRAWL
Alberta Man Dies of Injuries—Neighbor Held in Jail at Lacombe

LAMONT, Alta., Sept. 27 (CP).—Steve Letawsky is dead from a fractured skull, and Anton Zack, his neighbor, is in jail on a charge of murder as a result of an alleged moonshine brawl sixteen miles north of here, on Monday. Letawsky died in the Lacombe Hospital today.

The victim received his fatal injury when struck over the head by a peckyske, allegedly in the hands of Zack. He was unconscious from the time of the injury to the time of his death.

Hospital Difficulties Occupy Attention of Taxation Commission

Officials of B.C. Hospitals Association Declare Some May Have to Close Because of Reduction of Provincial Government Grants

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP)—Reduction of Provincial Government contributions toward British Columbia hospitals this year amounts to approximately $225,000, and has created such a difficult financial situation for some institutions that they may have to close. This was stated to the Royal Commission on Municipal Taxation at the courthouse this afternoon by J. M. Coady and J. H. McVety, president and secretary, respectively, of the British Columbia Hospitals Association.

Even before the reduction in Provincial contributions per patient per day, said Mr. Coady, hospitals of British Columbia were incurring heavy operating deficits because of the inability of many patients to pay their bills.

INCREASED DEFICITS
In 1931, said Mr. Coady, operating deficits of hospitals was $150,000 or more; in 1932 the figure reached $260,000. Since then there has been a reduction of $225,000 in Provincial grants.

Restoration of the Provincial grant to 70 cents a day was urged by Mr. Coady; but Mr. McVety declared that some provision should be made to increase contributions made by municipalities.

At present a municipality must pay 70 cents a day for its patients in a hospital, but Mr. McVety urged that this scale should be increased in some cases to as much as $1.00 or $1.25 a day.

Representatives of the association were asked by Commissioner Herbert Anson if they had ever given consideration to a compulsory insurance scheme by which an individual could build up a fund for hospital attention when required. Mr. Coady replied that the proposal had never been discussed, but it seemed to be a good idea.

NOT FAIR SHARE

Assertion that many municipalities do not bear their fair share of hospital costs was made by Mr. McVety, who declared that some districts only pay 70 cents a day for each person from the district in the hospital of a neighboring municipality.

VANCOUVER'S BRIEF

Allocation of a substantial portion of Provincial income tax revenue to cities and municipalities to defray costs of general services, especially education, was urged by City Treasurer A. J. Pilkington in presenting Vancouver city's brief.

Besides demanding a portion of income tax revenue, the city asks for the following:

Restoration of liquor grants on a basis having full regard to the locality in which the revenue is raised.

Restoration of the grant from part-mutual revenues.

Grant to the city of a substantial portion of the Provincial income tax on theatres, motion picture houses, etc.

Grant to municipalities of a substantial portion of the gasoline tax in consideration of local services, with full regard to the local origin of the tax.

BUSINESS LICENCES

Removal of the limitation of $100 on the city's right to collect licences from certain businesses, such as wholesale and retail dealers, loan companies, manufacturers, etc.

Restoration of former city rights now taken over by the Government in the case of beer parlors, insurance and trust companies, beverage dispensers, taxi drivers, employment bureaus and export liquor dealers.

Postponing of agriculture, with continuation of soil surveys to determine the utility of available lands.

Promotion of agricultural extension services through farmers' institutes and agricultural associations.

Advocacy of the use of pure seeds and high quality sires in the development of crop and livestock production.

Encouragement of junior farmer activities in every part of the province.

LAND SETTLEMENT

An aggressive agricultural land settlement policy, to provide permanent livelihoods for those turning to this means of self-support.

Abolition of interest on the price of land sold by the province, upon which no provincial outlays have been made.

Refusal of new settlement on unsuitable lands, or in isolated areas, until available areas closer in have been filled up.

Encouragement of settlement on Government lands where schools, roads and other facilities already exist, upon terms favorable to permanent and successful settlement.

B.C. SCHOLARSHIPS

Development of an educational policy that would provide every child with a sound training at public expense, and permit of higher education by means of bursaries and scholarships for those who can assimilate it and turn it to useful account. This would place university training at the disposal of the poor, where aptitude existed in the student; and insure a broad general education for all students, to a fixed age.

Reconstruction of the school curriculum in public schools to make it more adapted to the needs of the day; including revision of rural high school training, commercial courses, and general courses in the schools.

Continued economy in public expenditures to keep outlays within income; with reduction of public debt by every practicable means on return of more normal times.

BETTER TERMS

Renewal of appeal for better terms as between the Dominion and the Province, in regard to per capita subsidies and other matters, through Federal creation of a royal commission or otherwise.

Equitable adjustments of financial affairs as between the province and the municipalities, following presentation of the report of the commission now studying that problem.

Encouragement by all practical means of investment by outside capital in British Columbia, for the development of resources and continuing benefits.

Reduction of taxation wherever possible, through elimination of unnecessary expenditure and waste.

Redefinition of taxation sources as between the Dominion and the Province, with particular regard to Federal use of the income tax, following war-time precedents.

INSURANCE ISSUES

Support for state health insurance on a national basis.

Support for national unemployment insurance on a contributory basis.

Continuation of effort to bring

Cathedral Guttled by Fire With Heavy Loss

GUTTED BY fire, the cause of which is being investigated by the Quebec Provincial Police, the beautiful Valleyfield Cathedral and convent of the Sisters of Jesus and Mary was damaged to the extent of $1,600,000 recently. The roaring flames devoured the buildings, leaving only the blackened wall standing. (1) The face of the cathedral, showing a section of the sturdy walls which remained standing. (2) A heap of smouldering ruins in the interior of the cathedral after the flames had been subdued. Reconstruction will commence as soon as possible, it has been decided.

Premier Announces His Policies and Reaffirms Stand for Union Gov't

Savage, spoke at a public rally held in the St. John's Agricultural Hall, with William Thomas in the chair. He received a tremendous personal ovation.

UNIONIST PLATFORM

Premier Tominie reaffirmed the Unionist platform as announced by himself a few months ago, with some additions. It included the following proposals and principles:

Creation of a Union Government, with party politics set aside.

Provision of work instead of a dole for unemployment relief.

A survey, to be made in conjunction with labor and industry, to create work.

Study of rotation of work, shorter hours, and new avenues of employment.

Revision of British Columbia labor laws, introduction of fresh legislation, and co-operation with labor to improve conditions for the workers.

Continuation of direct labor representation in the Cabinet.

MARKETING AID

Advocacy of Federal law to regulate marketing of primary products, along the lines of the British Agricultural Marketing Act, with creation of a provincial marketing board.

Continuation of aggressive market extension policy at home and abroad.

Postponing of agriculture, with continuation of soil surveys to determine the utility of available lands.

Promotion of agricultural extension services through farmers' institutes and agricultural associations.

Advocacy of the use of pure seeds and high quality sires in the development of crop and livestock production.

Encouragement of junior farmer activities in every part of the province.

Reduction of taxation wherever possible, through elimination of unnecessary expenditure and waste.

Redefinition of taxation sources as between the Dominion and the Province, with particular regard to Federal use of the income tax, following war-time precedents.

INSURANCE ISSUES

Support for state health insurance on a national basis.

Support for national unemployment insurance on a contributory basis.

Continuation of effort to bring about international accord in the preservation of sockeye salmon fisheries by treaty.

Continuation of operation of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, and renewed efforts to dispose of the funds available. Opportunity for bona fide settlers to share in road work, where possible, by modification of statute labor laws.

Provision for an active campaign to advertise the resources of the province, to attract capital and tourists and development of primary wealth.

B.C. RESOURCES

Assurance that the province will obtain a fair return for the use of its natural resources by private enterprise.

Protection of the public against inflation of capitalization of companies through watered stock, through the Securities Act and otherwise.

Stimulation of British Columbia industries through a British Columbia products campaign.

Special attention to the problems of youth in these days, as part of a world-wide condition demanding special remedies.

Maintenance of British traditions for British people by enforcement of Credit, continued the Premier, was due to the Minister of Finance and to other members of the Cabinet who had effected a reduction of $7,420,518 in departmental expenditures in the last two years. Total departmental votes had been slashed from $19,778,467 in 1931-32, to $12,357,948 in 1932-33.

The savings included the following straight reductions: Legislation, $3,633; Premier's Office, $2,911; Ministers Without Portfolio, $2,911; Department of Agriculture, $1,582; Lands, $1,447,794; Finance, $2,130,900; Fisheries, $751,685; Labor, $292,733; Lands, $751,685; Mines, $669,493; Provincial Secretary, $1,847,000; Public Works, $1,789,050, and Railways, $1,174,000.

As a result of world-wide depression which set in shortly after the Government took office, provincial revenues fell sharply through the slowing down or stoppage of industry. This created immediate unemployment, doubly reacting on the finances of the Province. Relief had cost $9,000,000 in Provincial outlays so far, and however willing sufficient sums could not have been found to give work instead of direct relief in the past.

Mainly geared to exports, British Columbia industries were heavily hit by the depression, and industrial production on world markets, and world prices in the primary commodities produced, and no Provincial action could have been taken to offset the depression.

of some other political organizations, who propose to borrow and spend large sums of money. I am convinced that the creation of artificial prosperity by the heavy borrowing of money would in the long run be more detrimental than beneficial. It is always well to remember that when you borrow you must pay it back, in addition to interest and carrying charges. No government in my opinion has the right to unduly load the coming generations with a heavy indebtedness, which will be a yoke on their necks for practically the whole of their lives.

"There never was a time when it is so necessary to use good judgment, keep close to a sound view of the situation, and move with great care, having always the future of our great province in sight. I am just as keenly anxious to introduce anything that is proven to be safe and to have real benefit, but I think it is sound judgment to make any such proposals as are being made."

PERSONAL EFFORT

"In a lifetime in British Columbia I have found that the benefits come to the man who is industrious, thrifty and intelligent. We have seen these men grow into prosperity from a stump farm. We have seen them begin the laborious work of the longshoreman; pack grub on their backs over the mountainous trails; and no matter what their beginning, by adhering to these practices they have emerged successfully; they have established themselves as successful business men, and have taken an active part in the development of the province.

"In my opinion it is simply an outgrowth of the products of the province that the men of the province and women now pool their earnings, and the results of their years of labor and thrift.

"If I am a great believer in, and have the utmost faith in the sound sense of the people of British Columbia, and I am sure they will not be misled by any such frivolous proposals," Premier Tominie declared.

TO FIGHT ELECTION

"With regard to the misstatements which have appeared in the press opposed to this Administration, I desire to say unequivocally that I do not intend to retire. I am not seeking a position in the Federal Government and have not done so since I accepted the leadership of the Conservative party at Kamloops in 1926. I will fight the election, and after the election, in accordance with my pledge of September 17, 1932, I shall place myself in the hands of the elected members who are prepared to set aside all political affiliations. I will fight vigorously for success by every fair and reasonable means in support of the Unionist and Independent candidates."

The Premier in simple terms expressed appreciation of those who had remained loyal to him; neither by word or inference referring to others whom he had raised to power only to see them fall away when political setbacks got rough.

He expressed appreciation of the part taken by women in public affairs, and said he would like to see women represented in the Legislature.

PROUD OF RECORD

For the Government itself, the Premier said:

"We have realized the necessity for economy and have demonstrated our ability to carry this out. We are proud to call your attention to an absolutely clean record in the administration of the Government of this province for the past five years; one free from scandal of any sort. I place myself and my policy in the hands of the same, sound thinking people of this province, and wish to assure them that I am willing to accept their verdict cheerfully," the Premier concluded.

Only brief reference was made to the Liberal opposition by the Premier. During twelve years of office in most prosperous times the late Liberal Administration had increased the public debt from $25,000,000 to $118,000,000, and had ten deficits out of twelve budgets; the deficits totaling $16,000,000, and the surpluses $453,000. The Liberals left office with $14,000,000 of commitments unprovided for, he asserted, and could not now charge extravagance as a sin of the present Administration, conducting affairs of the country with shrunken revenues, and greatly increased responsibilities.

A large gathering heard the address, and accorded to Premier Tominie a welcome that for its warmth and spontaneity was significant of the esteem in which he is personally held.

ADMITTS C.C.F. IS SOCIALISM

T. Guy Sheppard Says Election Is to Be Contest Between Capital and Labor

"The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation movement is the front-line trench of Socialism, from which we are going over the top and nothing is going to stop us," declared T. Guy Sheppard, C.C.F. candidate in Victoria, speaking at Stanley Hall in Victoria West, last night.

"The Liberals say that we are not fighting in the open, that we are not straightforward in announcing ourselves, that we should admit that the C.C.F. is nothing but Socialism," he said. "Well, I for one, have no hesitation in saying that it is straightforward Socialism. Better straight Socialism than crooked capitalism."

FIGHT IS CLEAR CUT

Mr. Sheppard maintained that the coming election was not by any means a political contest, but that it was simply a clear-cut fight between capitalism and socialism.

He pointed out the inadequacies of the capitalist system, which could not supply the needs in a country where there was so much production that it had to be destroyed, and demonstrated how the C.C.F. platform proposed to remedy these ills.

"Both the Liberals and Conservatives say that we have no advantage in that we have no past," said Mr. Sheppard, "but they overlook the one great advantage which we have that they have not, and never will have, and that is the recall system. According to our code, any member elected to the House who does not meet with the satisfaction of the electorate will be recalled and replaced, whether such a thing is constitutional or not."

FOSTER INITIATIVE

In discussing the economic situation and the institution of socialism as a cure, Mr. Sheppard declared that contrary to the arguments of the old political parties, socialism would give man a far better opportunity to express his individuality than the capitalist system was doing at the present time.

"When you can give all your time and attention to your job and not have to worry continually about where your next meal is coming from, you are able to enjoy greater scope for your individuality and initiative," he asserted.

Halifax Pier Fire Causes $750,000 Damage

DESPITE all-night efforts of firemen, Pier No. 2 of Halifax Harbor, seen above, is just a smoldering mass of ruins. Damage to the 1,200-foot structure is estimated at $750,000. During the day fire-fighters concentrated their efforts on preventing the blaze spreading to adjacent piers. It was from the ruined pier that hundreds of thousands of Canadian troops left for, and arrived from, Europe during the Great War.

IDOLATRY NOT YET BANISHED

Rev. E. J. and Mrs. Church, of Baptist Mission Field, India, Are Here

With terrible pictures of the ignorance, dirt, squalor, suffering and superstition prevailing among the idolatrous peoples of India, Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Church, now home on furlough from the Canadian Baptist Mission field in Madras Presidency, made a moving appeal for sustained efforts in support of the work, while addressing a big congregation at the First Baptist Church last night.

BODY FOUND IN SAUERKRAUT TUB

Windsor Woman Is Drowned in Barrel—Man Held on Murder Charge

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 27 (CP).—Police tonight arrested Harry Hudson, 31, of East Windsor, and announced they were holding him in connection with the death today of Mrs. Peter Senko, found by her husband, drowned in a barrel of sauerkraut in the basement of their home.

Mrs. Senko's body was discovered by Senko and a neighbor, who searched the house after finding it had been burglarized. Senko told police $700 he kept in cash boxes under a coal pile in the cellar was missing.

Coroner A. E. Stewart, who examined the body of the dead woman, found bruises about the head. He said she had been alive when she was stuffed into the barrel and had died of drowning.

HEARTBREAKING

Of all the burdens that the missionary in India must bear, the most heartbreaking is that of idolatry. Mr. Church stated, after describing one of great processional festivals held in honor of the god of the harvest after a "good year," with bumper crops of rice and vegetables. To do honor to this god, the villagers ordered a goldsmith to mould an image, "a very terrible, grotesque, ugly, leering thing, because none of these idols ever represented a god of love, but always a god of fear who, in this particular instance, would take away their food and punish them maliciously if they did not honor it."

The festival became a day of drunkenness and obscenity.

So little do the ignorant idolaters understand the worship of an abstract God that in one village, where they listened spellbound to the message of the Gospel, they afterwards purchased copies of the Testament, (although a very few of them could either read or write), with the intention of burying the book and worshipping it with other household gods. When the missionaries told them this was useless, they reasoned, "If I can learn some more about your God from this book, your word must be in the book, therefore why should I not worship the book?"

INSTANCES OF ABUSES

Mrs. Church cited many instances of the abuses suffered by children because of the ignorance and superstition of their mothers. A prevalent custom is to tattoo with a red-hot steel, a mark on the face of babies afflicted with colic, in the belief that this will drive the devil out. Mothers spend hours in the filthy temples, prostrating themselves and their babies before an idol, in order to appease its anger so that the child will be cured.

Rev. G. A. Reynolds, president and M. Touche, accompanied at the organ by Oliver Stout, sang a sacred solo, "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go."

ASKS FOR BOARD OF CONCILIATION

Request Made to Settle Wage Differences Between B.C.E.R. and Outside Workers

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP).—In an effort to settle wage differences in the new agreement between the British Columbia Electric Railway Company and its outside workers, the company will ask the Department of Labor at Ottawa to appoint a conciliation board, President W. G. Murrin said today.

In the new agreement which replaces the one expiring September 30, the men have been asked to take a 10 per cent reduction in wages. Spokesmen for the Amalgamated Associations of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, the union representing the men, informed Mr. Murrin employees in the operating branches at Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, refused the proposed reduction.

Today Mr. Murrin said he would communicate with Ottawa asking intervention of the Dominion Government to settle the differences. He said the negotiations have been entirely amicable.

Teacher-Willis, how do you define ignorance?

Willis—It's when you don't know something, but someone finds it out.

Whitehall Block Must Be Up Ere Architects Die

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP).—The Government has decided architects more than fifty-five years old are too old to compete in designing the great $10,000,000 office block to be built in Whitehall, centre of the United Kingdom's administration.

Reason given for the age limit is that building of the new block will occupy several years and according to the Government experience shows that elderly architects engaged on a big undertaking often die before the work is completed.

DEATH REMOVES CAPT. DAVIDSON

Veteran of South African War and Riel Rebellion Passes Away Here

Captain Hugh James Alexander Davidson, aged seventy-six years, a veteran of the South African War and the Riel Rebellion, passed away Tuesday at St. Joseph's Hospital. He was the son of the late General and Mrs. Alexander George Davidson.

He is survived by his widow, at the family residence, 1042 Linden Avenue; four daughters, Mrs. D. C. Paterson, Kelowna; Mrs. M. Brown and Miss Mary Davidson, of this city; and Mrs. Reish, Montreal, and one son, Charles, Yahl, B.C.

FUNERAL SATURDAY

Funeral services will be conducted on Saturday, at 9 o'clock, at St. Andrew's Cathedral, where Mass will be celebrated. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery. It is requested no flowers be sent.

Captain Davidson was born in Meerabed, India, where he started his lengthy military career. He joined the Connaught Rangers and some fifty years ago came to Canada, where he joined the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. He took part in the Riel Rebellion of 1885.

RAISED REGIMENT

He raised a regiment at Pincher Creek, where he was residing at the outbreak of the South African War, and saw service between 1899 and 1902. He received a Queen's Medal with four clasps for distinguished service during the campaign.

Following the war, he returned to Canada, and shortly before the Great War organized the 79th Cameron Highlanders in Winnipeg. Owing to his age he was not accepted for active service, but served as Registrar of Alien Enemies in Canada throughout the four years. He had been a resident of Victoria for three years.

No Parade for Mystic Shriners

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP).—There won't be any parade when the Shrine Temple of the Ancient Order of the Mystic Shriners holds its annual ceremonial in Vancouver on September 30. Police Chief Cameron ruled there could be no exception in the anti-parade rule regulation in the case of the Shriners. The order's band is coming from Victoria for the occasion.

Validity of Fees In Saanich High Schools Queried

The validity of collecting Saanich high school fees was questioned last night at a meeting of the municipal school board, when it was learned that the minutes of the meeting of August 16, which included the resolution authorizing the collection of the fees, had not been passed.

Trustee W. W. Duncan moved their deletion, but a split vote defeated this suggestion. Trustees F. V. Hobbs, A. E. Hull and William Tomes voted against deletion, while Trustee Duncan and W. P. Jeune voted in favor.

LIBERALS PLAN FIVE MEETINGS

Royal Victoria Theatre and Chamber of Commerce Are Engaged

Five major meetings have been arranged by the Victoria Liberal Association during the forthcoming election campaign. In addition to the regular ward meetings, it was announced last night by C. J. McDowell, campaign manager.

The first meeting will be held on October 6, in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. This meeting has been designated "Ladies Night," and Mrs. Paul Smith, chairman of the Vancouver School Board, will address the gathering.

On October 12, another meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce, when the four Victoria Liberal candidates will speak.

LEADER TO SPEAK

T. D. Pattullo, Liberal leader, will be the chief speaker at a big meeting being arranged by the Royal Victoria Theatre on October 17. His address will be preceded by short speeches by the four local candidates.

Another meeting has been arranged for October 24, at the Shrine Auditorium, when it is expected one of the federal Liberal headquarters in the city will take place on November 1, in the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Mr. McDowell also announced that a committee room in each ward will be arranged, and the Liberal headquarters in the city would be established in the old Hibben bookstore on Government Street.

PRODUCE MARKET

Following is the markets letter issued yesterday by the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

AT EDMONTON

Business is normal. Apples, pears and crab apples are moving steadily. Peaches, mostly J. H. Hale and Excel, arrived in greater volume during the past week, and sold well at from $1.40 to $1.60 per box. The pack and condition were excellent. British Columbia pears are selling well at $1.05 to $1.15 per crate. Ontario damson pears are also in good demand. All vegetables are in abundance, and local prices are considerably below the wholesale prices quoted. The tomato deal is slowing down, both in arrivals and demand. Potato digging is only starting, and offerings are crowding the market. The local Government is buying potatoes and vegetables for relief in the southern parts of the province. This is expected to take from fifty to 100 cars—mostly potatoes, and will naturally stabilize the market to some extent.

AT CALGARY

Business remains fairly steady, and where fair crops have been harvested, the demand for fruit is reported good. No. 1 peaches are wholesaling at $1.55, and retailing at $1.65. All varieties of pears have sold well at $1.20 wholesale. The berry market is very slow. The British Columbia cantaloupes are practically over. A very large quantity has gone into consumption locally—helped by the low prices quoted. The quality of the fruit is probably the finest and cleanest crop of netted gem potatoes will be harvested in Southern Alberta this year. It will be ten days or two weeks before these are properly matured for storing. Car arrivals, September 18 to include the British Columbia, seven apples, nine fruit, two tomatos, forty-one mixed fruit and vegetables. Ontario, two grapes; imported, one grape; one sweet potatoes.

AT SASKATOON

Fruit sold freely during the week, and preserving is still in full swing. Bulk apples are showing up, and the boxes are selling more readily. Wealthies, "C" grade, are quoted at $1.65 to $1.75; household $1.35 to $1.50, and bulk 2-4 to 2-1-2 cents per pound. McIntosh grade at $2 to $2.10 per box; household $1.50 to $1.65, and bulk 2-4 to 3 cents per pound. The crab apple movement has been very good this season, but is gradually slackening off. Hyslop and Transcendents are selling at $1.20 to $1.30 per box. Both peaches and pears sold in large volume during the week. All arrivals were in good condition, and prices remained steady. British Columbia tomatoes and cucumbers continue to move slowly, and at slightly firmer prices. Car arrivals were Ontario, five grapes, one mixed fruit. British Columbia, two bulk and one box apples, one pear, sixteen mixed; imported, one oranges, one cranberries, one Spanish onions.

AT REGINA

Business is drab. Bulk apples are moving fairly well. Wealthies are selling at $2.25 to $2.50, and McIntosh at $2.25 per cwt. Italian pears are moving slowly, and the price has been dropped from $1.25 to $1.05 per box. Cantaloupes are reported as moving very slowly, at $2.25 to 35¢ and 64¢. Bartlett pears, arriving during the week, were mostly in an over-ripe condition. Ontario fruits are arriving mostly in good condition. Car arrivals are as follows: British Columbia, two box and one bulk apples, twenty mixed fruit, two mixed fruit and vegetables. Ontario, five mixed fruit.

AT WINNIPEG

Weather cool and raining. Business is only fair. Bulk apples are in fair demand. Most other fruits are arriving in mixed cars. Bulk McIntosh is wholesaling at $2.75 to $3 per cwt. Hyslop crab apples are quoted at $3 to $3.50 per cwt. Pears, peaches and prunes are in moderate demand. Car arrivals for week are as follows: Ontario, twelve mixed fruit, twelve grapes, one prunes. British Columbia, twelve mixed fruit, one mixed fruit and vegetables, thirteen bulk and one box apples, three onions, three pears, one prunes; imported, three grapes; one Spanish onions.

Rock Creek Consolidated Placers, controlled by Seattle interests, are proceeding with systematic excavating of the creek channel near Rock Creek, B.C.

DENIES C.C.F. IS AIDED BY SOVIET

All Campaign Funds Raised Among Members, Rev. Robert Connell Tells Saanich Electors

Firm denial that the C.C.F. movement has its campaign funds donated by Soviet Russia, or any other country, was made by Rev. Robert Connell, last night, in St. Aidan's Hall, in speaking before a number of Saanich electors.

"Our country's people are the only contributors to this cause, which is the 'people's movement,'" Mr. Connell explained. "In the past, political parties have received their campaign funds as gifts from large corporations, which, after elections, became the rulers of the country. The C.C.F. is opposed to such a system, the results of the people's political situation and will fight it."

"The C.C.F. is out to establish an entirely new scheme of things, and we propose to set up, in place of self-competition and capitalistic greed, a co-operative commonwealth for the benefit of all," the speaker said. "With the present economic system, the results of the people's labor flow into the hands of a few."

BUY CHEAPER ABROAD

Mr. Connell pointed out that the interests of the corporations. He cited instances showing that British Columbia manufactured products can be bought cheaper in foreign markets than at home. British Columbia salmon can be purchased in Liverpool and shipped back to Victoria for less than it can be obtained in the city, the speaker contended. He went on to say that other locally manufactured products will be at lower rates in the Straits Settlements.

W. E. Pelrice, who also spoke, declared that slavery exists today, with the people being enslaved by the modern debt, "the dollar and the bill." Only the resources of the country will be taken out of the hands of private concerns, and no confiscation of personal possessions is proposed under the C.C.F. platform, he concluded. Fred Salmon was in the chair.

Shipments From Nanaimo Heavy

NANAIMO, Sept. 27.—Lumber shipments from this city are continuing briskly. Clearing through the agency of M. C. Ironsides, local agent, the Langisearg of Newcastle, is due in port tonight for 100 tons of bunker coal, after having taken on a cargo of lumber for the United Kingdom at the mills of the Straits Lumber Company, Nanaimo Bay, fifteen miles north of here. Through the same agency, on Tuesday night, the Hakutatsu Maru took on 799,944 feet of lumber at Nanaimo for Montreal.

WAS BURIED YESTERDAY

The funeral service for Richardson Faulkner, who passed away on Sunday, September 24, was held yesterday afternoon. Rev. E. F. Church officiated. Interment took place in Ross Bay Cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: W. McCaghey, R. Lockin, W. Yeaman, E. Johnson, G. A. Okeil, and H. Burley.

Saanich C.C.F. Convention—The Saanich C.C.F. nominating convention will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. at 330 Pemberton Building. All delegates are expected to attend.

Opening Exercises—The opening exercises of Lampson Street School and the Esquimalt High School will be held at the former institution tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

United Front Meeting—The United Front is holding a meeting at Stanley's Hall tonight at 8 o'clock, at which the candidate, T. Mohr, and L. Tonnison, will speak. Discussion and questions will be invited.

Assault Charge — S. Norlin was charged in the Provincial Police Court yesterday with assaulting William Locke, Jr., at Otter Point, with intent to do grievous bodily harm. The case was adjourned for one week.

Adjourned Game Case — The charge against George Lowe of having venison in his possession without the required tag attached, was again adjourned in the Provincial Police Court yesterday. This was done on the request of Forrest L. Shaw, who appeared as counsel and who had had no opportunity of looking into the matter. It was adjourned until next Wednesday.

Liquor in Restaurant—Lee Kai and Wo, charged with having liquor in a restaurant, contrary to the act, were yesterday each fined in the city police court $50, together with $240 costs, or in default thirty days in jail. The accused appeared before Magistrate Jay. Sgt. A. H. Bishop testified to finding "chinese liquor" in the restaurant. The case was adjourned for one week.

Oak Bay Liberals—At a largely attended meeting of Oak Bay Liberal workers, it was decided to keep the Liberal committee rooms at the corner of Oak Bay and Monterey Avenues, open during the day and evening. J. D. Macdonald and Owen Smith will be in charge during the day time, while C. W. Stocker and E. G. Rowbottom will be in attendance at night.

Pays Annual Visit—A number of members from the local lodge traveled to Duncan to greet Grand Chancellor E. A. Hill, at Maple Lodge, B.C., on his annual tour of the British Columbia domain. The grand chancellor spoke of the activities of the order and laid particular emphasis on the ritual, pointing out that, in his opinion, it was unsurpassed by any other body of a like nature.

Hospital Gets Venison—In the Provincial Police Court yesterday, parts of two deer found in the possession of Roy Robinson on September 14, while the open season did not commence until two days later, were ordered confiscated by Stipendiary Magistrate Jay. At the suggestion of the police, it was ordered that the deer go to the hospital. The accused pleaded guilty to the offence, and was fined $20, with an added $2 for costs.

Illustrated Lecture—An illustrated lecture of educational value and interest will be given on Friday evening at the First Baptist Church, by Rev. T. H. Lonsdale, of Banff. Mr. Lonsdale will speak on "The Romance of the Canadian Rockies," and will illustrate his address by some very beautiful slides. The event, which is under the auspices of the C.G.I.T. department of the church, will commence promptly at 8 o'clock.

Installed as Chaplain—Frederick Cawsey was installed as chaplain for the remainder of the term at a meeting of the Victoria Aerie, No. 12 P.O.E., held at the club headquarters last night. J. Hughes, the first president of the local aerie, acted as installing officer. Past President P. O. Burton, of Dawson Aerie No. 50, was the guest speaker.

"Not once during the Liberal administration were bonds sold other than by public tender, and that policy will be re-established when we are elected to office," he declared.

MAKES CHARGE

Mr. Hart charged the present Government with balancing its budget by raiding the revenue of municipalities and forcing some of them into the hands of receivers. "New sources of revenue will have to be found for municipalities, but when we consider these new sources upon the municipalities, it must be on the distinct understanding that the tax on property must be reduced," he declared.

Mr. Hart also spoke of the platform in the Liberal policy that gave each Liberal complete independence of thought and vote. "It means that a member of the Government will be able to vote as he sees fit, without being dictated to by a caucus. Only by a vote of want of confidence will the Government be defeated," he declared.

Joseph B. Clearhue, Alderman W. H. Kinsman and Byron Johnson, the other Liberal candidates in Victoria, spoke very briefly.

SEATTLE SEARCHING FOR WOMAN BANDIT

SEATTLE, Sept. 27 (AP).—A woman bandit, described as about twenty-eight years old and dressed completely in brown, held up a service station eleven miles south of here on the Tacoma Highway tonight, and escaped in a hall of shotgun fire. She got off. The victim, Ben Whorton, said he didn't believe the shotgun fire, however, took effect. She was driving a new coupe. Authorities in all directions were notified by telephone.

"But will it win t'National?" asked the Yorkshirer.

"I'll win anything," was the unblushing reply.

"All right. Aw'll take it," said the Yorkshirer, "but how'll I tell when it's gold to jump?"

"Oh," said the staidman, "that's easy. When it's going to refuse a jump it puts its ears back. When it's going to jump, it pricks them up."

The Yorkshirer mounted and rode off down the street. They came to a viaduct over which a train was passing. The startled animal stopped, and pricked up its ears.

"Whoo, there!" said the astounded Yorkshirer. "Not on the life. This goes under that one!"

Visitors Are Welcomed at Pound Party

The annual appeal made by the W.C.T.U. for the pound party at the Ida Street Home met with most generous response, yesterday afternoon, and a splendid array of fruits and vegetables, groceries of all kinds, as well as cash donations, were gratefully received.

During the afternoon many visitors called at the home, some of whom were old friends, who have paid their annual visit for many years, and some were welcomed as new friends. Mrs. W. H. Gee received the gifts in the hall, and Mrs. L. C. Spofford and Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. F. W. Laine and the matron, Miss Moore, and assistant matron, Miss Bostell, showed the visitors over the home, where the various departments were inspected, and the cleanliness and comfort noted by all guests.

Tea was served at charmingly arranged little tables in the dining-room, roses making effective centrepieces, while vases of dahlias, chrysanthemums and marigolds, combined with Michaelmas daisies, made the hall and reception rooms bright and attractive. Mrs. William Russell had charge of the tea-room, assisted by Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Mrs. James Hood, Mrs. W. D. Sabiston, and Mrs. O. M. Brown. Mrs. Frank Grant, a new member of the board, assisted the reception committee in welcoming the visitors.

LANTERN SLIDES ILLUSTRATE TALK

Rev. J. H. A. Warr Describes His Six-Thousand-Mile Journey Across Continent

The schoolroom of Metropolitan Church was crowded Monday night with persons who came to hear the illustrated lecture, entitled "Snapshots of a Six-Thousand-Mile Trip," given by Rev. J. H. A. Warr, under the auspices of the Metropolitan Young Peoples' Society.

The president, Donald McCain, took charge of the meeting, which was opened by the congregational singing of the Young Peoples' Society hymn, "On to Victory." This was followed with Scripture read by Elbert Wood and the repetition of the Lord's Prayer in unison. After the hymn, "You May Have the Joyful Ringing in Your Heart," beautifully colored slides, kindly loaned by the Canadian National Railways, were shown on the screen.

These pictures gave an interesting idea of the trip from Victoria to Toronto. Postcard pictures of Auburn, New York and other points of interest were shown, among them some of the famous Niagara Falls by day and wonderfully lighted up at night. At this point in the programme Miss G. Knapp, accompanied by William Dawson at the piano, sang several solos. The remainder of the evening was devoted to the World's Fair. A very complete collection of pictures of this marvelous exhibition was shown, while Mr. Warr's talk was most interesting.

The young people are invited to a "get-together" meeting next Monday evening, and are asked to keep in mind the "Miniature World's Fair," to be held in Metropolitan schoolroom on November 1, 2 and 3.

A man greatly esteemed by his employers informed the cashier that a mistake had been made in his wages. He had been given ten dollars too much, he explained.

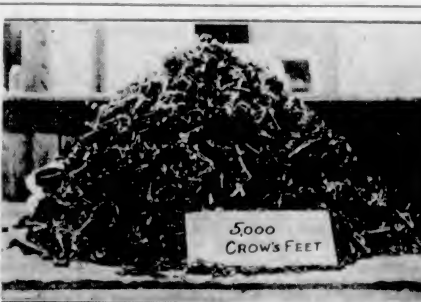

The cashier, after counting the contents of the envelope, said it was correct. He had been given ten dollars increased by instructions from the management.

"How long have I been having this?" was the next question of the man—a husband, and the proud father of two children.

"The alteration was made three months ago," rejoined the cashier after a glance at his books.

"What?" ejaculated the man. "And she never told me!"

WOMAN DOCTOR RELATES STORY

Dr. A. A. Maximova-Kulaev, of San Francisco, Recalls
Service During War

Petite and elegant, Dr. A. A. Maximova-Kulaev, a Russian woman physician now practicing in San Francisco who passed through Victoria Tuesday on her way back to California after attending the Chicago Congress on Physio-Therapy, carries little suggestion in her person of war's grim realities. Nevertheless as a member of the Russian medical service during some of the grimmest months of the Great War and also during the sabbatical days of the Russian Revolution of 1917, she lived through some of the sternest experiences of a momentous period in her country's history.

Some of these experiences she recalled while visiting Victoria friends here between the arrival and departure of the S. H. F. Alexander for the South. One of the most harrowing sights she ever witnessed, she said, was the blowing up in the Black Sea of a Red Cross ship just as it was about to sail for an Aegean port. She herself was on a sister ship, also fitted up by the Red Cross, but the sailing of which had been deferred owing to the fact that certain equipment had not arrived. The two vessels lay alongside each other at Odessa, each fitted and completely staffed as floating hospitals, with scores of physicians, orderlies, nurses and crew. Advice were being exchanged between the people on the decks when suddenly the one was blown to pieces by a submerged mine.

RUSSIAN GRADUATE

A graduate of a St. Petersburg medical school in 1914, Dr. Maximova-Kulaev was sent to Serbia in the latter part of 1914 on invitation of the Serbian Ambassador, M. Spalovich, and for about a year served in a Serbian military hospital, where she met many British, French and Italian physicians. In 1915 Russia experienced the need of all her own trained men and women and she was recalled. It was in 1917 that she was sent down to the Black Sea to serve on the Red Cross ship.

"Yes, I was in Russia under Communism for awhile—but, unfortunately, she answered when asked if she had had any experience of Communism. She realized the dire poverty of the people, and for eleven years, ever since coming to this continent, has been regularly supplying food to five a time she also sent money, but this evidently never reached its destination. Only the food has ever been acknowledged."

RUSSIAN COLONY

San Francisco has a big Russian colony, numbering about 10,000 persons, including physicians, lawyers, officers, artists, artisans, and all organized into their different groups or clubs. In this colony she finds much of her practice as a physician, although her office is in the centre of the city, on Butter Street.

"What Russia needs is not the tyranny of one political party, as at present, but a government representative of all parties," she maintains. She concedes that a Czarist government would have no chance in Russia at the moment. Personally she has no intention of attempting to return to her native land. "Three years ago she was back in Europe, but did not dare to go to Russia. She finds life in America very interesting, and among the enlightening recent experiences being a visit to the Ford Hospital at Detroit."

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

LIVING SAFELY WITH HEART DISEASE

Notwithstanding the fact that thousands of men with "leaking valves" in the heart fought in the war without difficulty, and notwithstanding that thousands of individuals with leaking valves live to a good old age, there are still a great many who worry because they have this condition.

The leak in the valve has been caused by some ailment—scarlet fever, rheumatism or others—which left the little valve with an "eccentric" edge instead of one that was smooth and well-fitting. Naturally, when the valve is closed a little blood is going to flow back through these small openings at the edge of the valve. But, if the heart continues to pump enough blood, despite this little leak, what difference does it make to all your tissues?

It is just like a pump that leaks year in and year out, but still supplies all the water the household needs.

Therefore physicians do not talk very much about "leakers" in the heart, but talk rather about the strength of the heart muscle, and try to measure its ability to do the necessary work, and how long it is likely to continue to do this necessary work.

The individual, then, who has a heart leak can go along in his usual manner, and feel safe as far as his life is concerned.

As you know, the first sign of a failing heart is a shortness of breath; getting out of breath doing little tasks that formerly did not cause this breathlessness.

Now what can the individual do who finds that he is getting "breathless" on slight exertion?

He should first see his doctor, as this shortness of breath may be due to an ailment in the system, or to a failing heart. If it be due to a failing heart, then less food and more exercise may be necessary.

If due to a failing heart, the physician will advise as to health habits in regard to amount of exercise that may be taken, the necessity of one or two rest periods during the day, and the need of resting the mind as well as the body.

In other words as the ability of the pump (heart) to do work has lessened, then the individual must simply lessen the needs of his body by living more safely.

In this way he can live safely.

Complete Examination in Migraine or One-Sided Headache.

Despite all the efforts of practitioners and research men, the cause of migraine or one-sided headache has not been discovered. You may remember that an investigation, in an endeavor to investigate this ailment, advertised for sufferers to submit to treatment, and were forced to turn away many hundreds, such is the number afflicted.

Dr. M. Critchley and F. R. Ferguson, London, state that migraine may be due to the liver, the eye, the food and other causes. They then the natural method of treatment would be to try to determine which one of these may be giving the trouble in each particular case.

something which effects this body condition. As you know this is also the thought in epilepsy, the cause of which has not yet been discovered. In epilepsy there is a body condition, and some outside influence such as food is the match that sets off the already prepared fire.

If then migraine may be traced to the liver, to the eye, or other part of the body, or to the food eaten, the food and other causes. They then the natural method of treatment would be to try to determine which one of these may be giving the trouble in each particular case.

Thus, to investigate a case of migraine, a regular routine should be followed, which would include:

1. A careful previous history of the patient, and also his family history.
2. A physical and mental examination.
3. Careful testing for anything abnormal about the eyes.
4. An X-ray examination of lower floor of the skull, the sinuses, the gall bladder and the intestinal tract.
5. Full examination of the fluid in the brain and spinal column, and the pressure of this fluid.
6. Examination of the blood sugar, the urine and the alkali reserve of the blood and tissues.
7. Finding the rate at which the body processes work, or the basal metabolism as it is called.

Dr. Critchley and Ferguson state that it is useless to fight off an attack and recommend retirement to a quiet darkened room as soon as possible and the use of a quieting drug.

Between attacks some patients are helped by Epson salts, special diets, and sometimes by mental treatment or suggestion.

Sufferers with migraine might well think about the above complete examination and the possibility of locating the cause of their suffering.

TO GIVE ADDRESSES IN CITY ON RUSSIA

More than one speaker has visited Victoria, professing to tell Victorians the story of Russia, but it has remained for the visit of Rev. Michael Billester, for ten years, missionary in that much-discussed land, to come to this city with the authoritative message of years of personal experience.

Mr. Billester, who has been drawing crowded audiences in Vancouver to hear his thrilling and harrowing story of life in Russia, will appear for the first time in Victoria at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, on Friday, October 1, and will speak morning and evening.

"Most young men are anxious to rise," But not in the morning!

Remained Aboard
Ship at YokohamaT. V. Soong Disappointed Japanese When He Failed to Visit Tokio—Was Protected by Military and Police at Shanghai

With the return of the American Mail Line Ss. President Jefferson on Tuesday morning from the Orient, some of the circumstances in connection with the arrival of T. V. Soong, China's Finance Minister, on the other side, came to hand. Mr. Soong was a passenger on the last voyage of the liner westbound.

From the arrival of the Chinese steamer at Yokohama, the Japanese press made many references to what was going to transpire when he landed at Yokohama and paid a visit to Tokio. Many things pertaining to Sino-Japanese relations in the Far East were going to be straightened out.

Mr. Soong disappointed them all, and he is now repaying the reward of his temerity. While the Jefferson was at Yokohama, he remained aboard her and would grant no interview, stating that he had adopted that policy in connection with his travels and would not say anything until he reached China. He did pose for Japanese press photographers, however.

GUARDED HEAVILY
He landed at Shanghai under heavy military and police protection. Five planes hovered over Nantao Bund as he went ashore, while all traffic in the vicinity of the wharf was suspended. Nobody was allowed to meet the Finance Minister on board the liner, even Government leaders and those armed with special permits being refused permission to board the vessel, which was heavily guarded by police, in view of rumors of assassination plots.

The streets leading from the Nantao wharf to Mr. Soong's residence in Frenchcon were strongly picketed by police, and traffic was suspended when his car was passing. French police guarded the minister the whole way from the wharf to his residence.

APPEALS FOR UNITY
Following safe arrival at his residence, Mr. Soong issued a statement appealing for unity among the national leaders for the salvation of the nation and expressing confidence that, if China helps herself, all powers in the world would gladly extend assistance.

He said he inspected the new industrial tendencies in Germany.

CHANGE IN
MAIL TIMEMatter for U.S. Must Be Posted Earlier in October

Effective on October 2, the Seattle steamer will leave here at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon instead of 5 o'clock, as at present, the mails closing at the Postoffice at 4 o'clock on November 21. During the Winter season, there will be three scheduled trips, the other two leaving Edmonton on January 30 and March 20. These dates are only approximate, the service being dependent on weather conditions.

SPECIAL TRIPS
The Postoffice Department advises that Canadian Airways may perform other trips if freight and express business justify. Mail will be carried on the special trips as well as on the scheduled trips, and the public is asked to have its mail for Northern points reach Port McMurray as soon as possible, so as to connect with any trip that may be made.

Information concerning the service to intermediate points may be obtained at the Postoffice.

NORTH OF WHITEHORSE
In connection with the dispatch of mail to Dawson and points in the Yukon, north of Whitehorse, information has also been received by the postmaster to the effect that the last steamer to connect with the final sailing from Whitehorse for Dawson will leave Vancouver on the evening of September 29. For this dispatch, mail will close here at 1:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the date indicated. After September 29, mails will be forwarded from Whitehorse to Dawson overland, the parcel post service being suspended. Parcels, however, may be sent if paid with letter rates of postage.

FAIR BENEFITS CHICAGO HOTELS
Accommodation Not Sufficient to Handle Century Progress Exposition Throng

Despite the depressed conditions which have been prevailing throughout America for some time, the Century of Progress Fair at Chicago has already proved a great financial success, Frank S. Maxwell, traffic manager for Amstar & Company, with headquarters at Chicago, stated here, yesterday, following his arrival in the city for a short visit.

Mr. Maxwell, who is in close touch with the Fair executive, business leaders, and heads of transportation systems when at home, stated that the Fair was particularly beneficial to the hotel men and storekeepers. The Stevens Hotel, largest hotel in the world, with its 3,000 rooms, was daily turning from three to five hundred persons away, while on one day 7,000 persons registered at the hotel. This demand for hotel accommodation at Fair gates opened, and the same conditions applied to other hotels as well. This business had been a great boon to Chicago hotel men, as they had been in a bad way for a long time.

MUCH MONEY SPENT
Talking about the patronage extended Chicago district loop stores, Mr. Maxwell said that over $20,000,000 had already been spent with them as a result of the Century of Progress Fair, while all the railroads operating into Chicago were handling a great volume of traffic.

The Fair had been favored with fine weather almost from the start, and this factor had contributed not a little to the general success. Mr. Maxwell came west over the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railway.

On His Way Home to India

His Highness the Maharajah Gaekwar, of Baroda, was photographed aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia just before the ship sailed from Victoria for the Orient on Saturday morning.

He is probably best known for his gifts to Great Britain during the Great War, when his contributions in cash and equipment totaled many millions of rupees.

BIG ROAD SHOW NOW AT EMPIRE

"Change Your Luck" Features More Than Fifty Colored Entertainers—Fine Screen Play

"Change Your Luck," famous all-colored revue, comes to the Empire Theatre for an engagement of three days commencing today, direct from a record-breaking tour of leading cities on the Pacific Coast. More than half a hundred entertainers comprise the large company which carries its own orchestra, technical crew and two car loads of costumes and scenic effects.

Its roster of entertainers reads like a galaxy of the famous names in the negro theatre. Curtis Mosby and his Dixieland Blueblowers, internationally famous broadcast band; Corinne Gibson, sensational dancer; "The Four Deacons," celebrated quartette; Shorty Burch, diminutive dancer; "The Three Choccolaters," extraordinary tap dancers, are among the featured members of the company, and twenty-four dazzling "Aframerican" beauties sing and dance their ways through a melange of native melodies.

The Empire Theatre announces that there will be a matinee each day of the engagement as well as an evening performance.

On the screen the management has secured Edmund Lowe in "I Love That Man," a startling drama with Nancy Carroll in the leading feminine role.

As long as Robert Woolsey appears on the screen, the cigar manufacturer can be assured of having one steady and infallible customer. For in every picture he smokes at least 500 specially made cigars! Accurate count was kept by a prop man during production of the latest Wheeler and Woolsey comedy, "So This Is Africa," at Columbia, to find that this ridiculous, dry-galting comedian smoked on an average of fifteen cigars a day for thirty-four working days.

"So This Is Africa" carries Bert Wheeler and Woolsey into the darkest continent to deliver into the mysteries of a wild tribe of Amazon women. Raquel Torres, Esther Miller, Henry Armetta and many other well known players form the supporting cast. Eddie Cline directed, from a screen play by Norman Krassa. The picture is showing today at the Dominion Theatre.

Bebe Daniels again sings in "Cocktail Hour," Columbia production, showing as the added attraction. It was in the musical comedy, "Rio Rita," that it was discovered Miss Daniels possessed a beautiful voice. In "42nd Street," her last picture prior to "Cocktail Hour," she sang several musical numbers which were received with great enthusiasm.

"Listen, Heart of Mine" was written especially for Miss Daniels by Director Victor Schertzinger, who wrote "Marcheta," which sold over 4,000,000 copies, and several other big hits.

CAPITOL Gay, irresponsible non-theatre sense is brought to the screen by "The Midshipmaid," a Gaumont-British picture now showing at the Capitol Theatre. It is a naval comedy, and tells of the visit of a naval economist to the fleet at Malta. Unfortunately for the success of his plans, the pompous old boy (Fred Kerr) is accompanied by his daughter (Jessie Matthews). While he is looking into matters of administration, with a view to applying the

Columbia Story Stars Jack Holt

Film audiences have grown to expect a good picture whenever Jack Holt is starred, and "The Woman I Stole," Columbia's newest film featuring this popular actor, at the edge of a desert, and there men struggle bare-handed to achieve personal success. They employ fair means and foul, for the desert wilderness permits only the survival of the fittest.

The strength of the picture lies, not only in the unusual love story, but in the dramatic punches and realistic oil-field atmosphere. The locale is an isolated oil port on the edge of a desert, and there men struggle bare-handed to achieve personal success. They employ fair means and foul, for the desert wilderness permits only the survival of the fittest.

Jack Holt, as Jim Bradley, oil tycoon, who has built up this tremendous industry only to lose it aside as a worn-out plaything, has his usual he-man role, but he portrays it with even more than his customary punch. Miss Wray's interpretation of Vida Corew is a welcome change from her previous "horror pictures."

Likeable Comedy Is at Playhouse

Mythological characters strut across the screen in "The Warrior's Husband" for one of the brightest of any of the film comedies presented in years. If one can imagine

DR. R. B. DIER TO RUN IN NANAIMO

NANAIMO, Sept. 27.—Dr. R. B. Dier, pioneer resident of British Columbia, has announced that he will run as an independent candidate for Nanaimo-Alberni in the forthcoming Provincial elections.

Dr. Dier is well known on Vancouver Island. Prior to taking up his residence in Nanaimo, he lived in Ladysmith, where he served as mayor for three consecutive years. He also lived in Victoria for many years. He ran against Parker Williams in Newcastle district, in 1916, when he was defeated by the Socialist vote.

The voters' list for this district, now in the hands of the printers, has swollen from 4,500, at last printing, to 8,700, due to the increased area of the riding by the inclusion of Alberni district.

MARK DEDICATION OF CITY TEMPLE

Captivating songs, clearly-played instrumental selections, fine recitations and a humorous sketch, marked the second anniversary of the dedication of the present Victoria City Temple, Tuesday night, when a varied programme was presented in the temple to more than 500 persons. It also marked the twentieth anniversary of Dr. Clem Davies' work in Victoria.

Such well-known local vocalists as Miss Dorothy Parsons, Miss Freda Spencer, Mrs. Madge Shrimpton, George Palmer, Alva Wetherill and Theodore Christensen were heard. All were recalled for encores.

Instrumental solos were offered by Miss Patricia Williams, Miss Grace Atfield, and Miss Florence Hughes. Richard Hughes presented two recitations. Pupils of the Nova Jewell School of Dancing and the Italian School of Music and Dancing presented interpretive dances. Those taking part were Misses Corinne Earl, Thelma Whyte, Francis Borde, Jean McGrath, Kathleen Stomkins, and Muriel Marshall.

THE CORNISH WIZARD

Frank Merryfield, the Cornish wizard, demonstrated a few of his tricks. A string ensemble, composed of Madam Atfield, and Misses Minnie Lane, Annie Crovan, Grace Atfield, Lona Atfield, and Evelyn Holt, were also heard.

The feature of the evening was the presentation of a sketch, having its setting in Russian, entitled, "The Marriage Proposal," by Anton Tchekoff. The cast included Miss Joan Reid, Charles Lewis and Andrew Swallow. Mrs. Maud Hammond directed.

Refreshments were served after the concert. Miss A. Ordano arranged the programme.

"Your daughter ordered these photographs," said a man.

"Hm! They're very like her. Did she say for them?"

"No, sir."

"Still more like her!"

Cage Teams to Open Season Wednesday on Victoria High Floor

Blue Ribbons, Canadian Champions, to Face Slingers in Feature Game—Colonist Tackles Tillicums and Laundry Meets Pantorium

Cage teams in the Victoria and District Basketball League will appear in the opening games of the 1933-34 season next Wednesday evening, at the Victoria High School gymnasium, at 7:30 o'clock. The list of games for the opening two weeks was released last night by President Jack Taylor and Secretary Bill Erickson, following a meeting held in the board room of The Colonist. Blue Ribbons, holders of the Canadian men's senior "A" crown, will appear on the opening card. They will clash with Slingers, last year's senior "B" titleholders, in the feature game. In the opener, The Colonist will tackle Tillicums in the senior "B" division, while Standard Steam Laundry and Pantorium will follow in the women's senior "B" section.

Tommy Macdo, Victoria's popular arborist, who handled games in the Western Canadian and Dominion play-offs, was appointed as official referee for the year. Another will be selected to assist Macdo during the season. The play-off system will be used again, if time permits, and the league will run straight through, not in two divisions as in the past.

LIST OF GAMES
List of games for the first two weeks follows:

FIVE TEAMS ENTERED IN PRO HOCKEY

Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Seattle and Portland Form New League

SPOKANE, Sept. 27 (AP).—Professional ice hockey this winter was assured five Northwest and Canadian cities with the formation here, today, of the Northwest Professional Ice Hockey League.

Franchises were voted to Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Portland, and Seattle with a tentative franchise voted to Tacoma, dependent upon that city's ability to complete a rink.

Although the schedule was not completed, the opening games will be played probably in Seattle and Portland late in November, with Edmonton and Calgary traveling. There will be weekly elimination games, followed by play-offs to determine the championship.

SIX CITIES REPRESENTED
Representatives from six cities attended the organization meeting here: Hugh M. Caldwell, Seattle; Guy W. Patrick, Vancouver; Arthur C. Rudd, Tacoma; Gordon Keats, Edmonton; Lloyd Turner, Calgary; and John D. Scott, Portland.

The following officers were elected:
E. L. Richardson, Edmonton, honorary president; Dr. Gordon Leitch, Portland, president; Hugh M. Caldwell, Seattle, vice-president.

The board of governors consists of Caldwell, Patrick, Keats, and Turner, complete the schedule and draw up a later meeting will be held to rules for competition at the call of President Leitch.

Delegates Rudd told the meeting that efforts were being made to obtain a rink at Tacoma, as there appeared to be evidence of sufficient support there to support a club. Spokane was not considered for a franchise at this time, because of the unavailability of a rink, but the delegates were told this city might be asked to be included in the league later.

President Leitch said admission prices had not definitely been decided upon, but it was the opinion of the organizers that "popular" prices should be charged.

Hepburn Captures Golf Tournament At Oak Bay Club

Shooting a fine gross card of 72, which his eight handicap reduced to a net 64, H. F. Hepburn captured the Victoria Golf Dealers' Golf Cup, at the Oak Bay golf links, Tuesday afternoon. Hepburn headed home the field by six strokes. W. M. Munro, R. Cran, and Art Beasley were tied for the next three places with net cards of 70. Art Beasley was second low gross with a 76.

England Names Soccer Eleven To Meet Irish

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP).—The team to represent the English Football League in the match against the Irish League, at Preston, on October 4, was today selected as follows:
Baker (Everton); Beeson (Sheffield Wednesday); and Trenham (West Bromwich); Britton (Everton); Allen (Preston); and Copping (Leeds United); Crooks (Derby); Groves (Birmingham); Bowers (Derby); Bastin (Aston); and Brook (Manchester City).

SALMONBELLIES WHIP BLUEBIRDS

Score 18-8 Victory Over Province Squad in First Game of Lacrosse Series

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 27 (CP).—New Westminster Salmonbellies, senior British Columbia lacrosse champions, went on a belated scoring spree last night to trim Province Bluebirds, intermediate U18s, 18-8, in the first of a three-game series to determine who will represent the province in the Mann Cup series for the Dominion title.

The surprising Bluebirds held their mighty opponents on even terms for three periods, then stepped out to score ten goals, win the game 18-8, and thereby take a ten-goal lead in the series. The two teams met in the Vancouver Arena, Friday night.

WHIRLWIND RALLY
Not until the final period did the Salmonbellies look like the championship team. The final whirlwind attack swept the Bluebirds out of the picture, but the Salmonbellies had to get down and play lacrosse to do it.

Any spectators who came expecting a walkover were disappointed, for from the first whistle to the end of the third period it was a real game.

Louis Lewis and Johnny Vernon look for honors for the Salmonbellies. The former netted seven goals, the latter six. For the Province Bluebirds, half a dozen or more lads were in the game. Bryce Spring, son of the famed warrior, Doury Spring, was brilliant, and in goal, Walter Lee stopped dozens of hard direct drives.

ANGELS CAPTURE Pacific Coast Baseball Title

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27 (AP).—Portland errors and the Angels' own Dick Ward have assured Los Angeles of its first Coast League pennant since 1926.

Ward's eight-hit pitching helped Los Angeles trim San Francisco 9-6 yesterday for the single victory, while to eliminate Hollywood as a championship contender. Portland eliminated itself by booking away its series opener with Seattle 5-3.

Catchers Will Play Important Part in World Series Games

Man in Mask Can Make or Break Baseball Club—Gus Mancuso Given Slight Edge Over Luke Sewell in Baseball "Dope Sheet"

By ALAN GODDLE
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).—Few championship major league clubs have ever gone into the world series without first class backstopping. The deeds of Criger, Kling, Carrigan, Gow, Cochran, and Dickey ring down through the annals of baseball battle.

The man in the mask can make or break a ball club. Enthusiastic adherents of either party part in the 1933 world series will tell you that Gus Mancuso, of the Giants, and Luke Sewell, of the Senators, and the Alabama Sewells, "made" their teams what they are today.

Mancuso and Sewell do not rank among the great catchers of all time. They lack the mechanical precision of a Schalk, and they do not hit with the justness of a Cochran, but they are both smart, dependable and durable.

Sewell is the more experienced receiver, with a dozen years of major league experience behind him, whereas Mancuso, in his fifth big league season, is just finishing his first full campaign as a No. 1 backstop for any club. Gus was understop to the great Jimmy Wilson at St. Louis. He is twenty-seven, five years younger than Sewell, but has had the advantage of playing a part in two previous world series.

MANCUSO BEST HITTER
There seems little to choose, on the whole, but Mancuso's somewhat more robust batting average, plus his exceptional talent for getting the most out of his pitchers, give him an edge over Sewell in the "dope sheet."

Manager Bill Terry has repeatedly praised Mancuso's backstopping and judgment. Those close to the Giants say Gus has more authority in directing the play than any other member of the club, outside of Terry himself, and that the swarthy backstop is actually the "brain" of the outfit, by tacit agreement.

It has taken plenty of hard work as well as judgment and agility to handle contrasting a quartette of pitching deliveries as those of Hubble, Fitzsimmons, Schumacher, and Parmelee, but Augusta Rodney Mancuso has obtained extraordinary results.

Gus is no sprinter on the basepaths, but he is a timely hitter, with a five-year average of .260, and has good arm. Sewell is a .260 stickler, but has driven in a few more runs than Mancuso.

Washington's reserve backstops include Cliff Bolton, with a penchant for pinch-hitting, and the well-known Princeton linguist, Moe Berg. Mancuso's understudy is young Paul Richards, earnest but inexperienced workman. Barring accidents, Sewell and Mancuso will do all the catching.

GEHRIG GAINS BIG SIX PLACE

Yankee First Baseman Gets Five Out of Seven—Jimmy Fox Advances

Pounding out five hits in seven trips to the plate, Lou Gehrig yesterday crowded his way into baseball's Big Six, replacing Heinie Manush as runner-up to Jimmy Foss in the American League trio. The five hits boosted his average five points to .294. Foss also drove out five hits, but he was at bat eight times for a gain of three points, while Virgil Davis boosted his average two points with as many hits in three times at bat. The standings:

HOME RUN STANDINGS
Home runs yesterday—Foss, Athletics, 1; Gehrig, Yankees, 1; Davis, Giants, 1; Criss, Giants, 1.

LEAGUE TOTALS—American, 600; National, 433. Total, 1,033.

SOLDIERS' VICTORY OVER NAVY FEATURE OF SOCCER OPENING

Troops Mark Return to Wednesday League With 2-1 Decision Over Sailors—Spencer's Rally in Late Stages to Beat Hudson's Bay 3-1—James Bay Liberals Drop Opener, 7-1

LEAGUE STANDINGS
W. L. D. F. A. P.
Maccabees ..... 1 0 0 7 1 2
Spencers ..... 1 0 0 3 1 2
Garrison ..... 1 0 0 2 1 2
Navy ..... 0 1 0 1 2 0
Hudson's Bay ..... 1 0 1 3 0
James Bay Liberals ..... 1 1 0 1 7 0

Fighting desperately throughout, Garrison returned to the Wednesday Football League, yesterday afternoon, in a blaze of glory, when they sent the Navy, last year's champions, down to a 2-1 defeat in the opening game of the season in the Hayward Cup series, on the lower Beacon Hill Park grounds, before a large crowd. Spencers rallied late in the second half to defeat Hudson's Bay in the second match of the double attraction; while Maccabees made their debut in the league by handing the newly-formed James Bay Liberals a 7-1 lashing on the upper pitch.

Reginald Hayward, donor of the silverware, sent the teams into action in the opener by kicking off the ball, while M. Wightman officiated at the second tussle in place of W. F. Spencer, who was unable to attend. Reeve William Crouch, of Saanich, performed the ceremonies at the Maccabees-James Bay game, and in doing so, presented Teddy Hanks, who managed the disbanded Saanich "United" team for several seasons, with a gift as a token of his fine sportsmanship.

During the years he was connected with the league, Hanks presented all games was handed over to the unemployed fund.

GOOD SOCCER
Considering it was the opening games, the brand of football, especially in the double-header, was comparatively good. Maccabees showed some fine combination in the attack, and half line were weak, but their front rank showed flashes of some fine teamwork.

Garrison, Navy, Spencers and Hudson's Bay all followed strong, and will need to strengthen up to keep in the scramble for the trophy.

In the second half, the Liberals showed flashes of form on the attack, but their back division was terribly weak. Three goals from the toe of Fieldhouse, hustling centre-forward, and one each by Ward, Ward, Wyatt, Fish, Collier and Bentley.

EASY VICTORY
Gaining a 4-0 lead in the opening half, Maccabees had little trouble in winning the points from James Bay Liberals. From start to finish, the Liberals were overhauled, and will need to strengthen up to keep in the scramble for the trophy.

In the second half, the Liberals showed flashes of form on the attack, but their back division was terribly weak. Three goals from the toe of Fieldhouse, hustling centre-forward, and one each by Ward, Ward, Wyatt, Fish, Collier and Bentley.

Presenting one of the strongest teams in years, the lads from Work Point Barracks more than held their own with the hard-fighting Navy eleven in the first half, and then in the last stanza held the upper edge, despite the fact they were kicking up the slope. During the opening minutes, the sailors showed the advantage, and swept down on the tommies' goal time and again, but failed to beat Glendenning. Just before the interval, William, right winger, scored from a melee in close quarters.

Play speeded up in the final half, with the soldiers fighting hard on the defence during the first ten minutes. Bert Barker, Navy goalie, was kept busy as the game progressed, and was called upon to clear several dangerous attacks.

The Garrison finally broke the deadlock, when Jimmy Worwick, left winger, scored in an unopposed net after Barker left his goal to clear, but lost the ball. Just before time, McAllister broke the tie, and gave the troops victory with a fine shot from close in.

RICHARDS WINS IN THIRD ROUND
Top-Seeded Professional Tennis Star Defeats Faulkner in Straight Sets

RYE, N.Y., Sept. 27 (AP).—All but one of the quarter-final brackets in the United States professional tennis singles championship were filled today as the top-seeded player, Vincent Richards, led the field through the third round of competition at the Westchester Country Club.

Richards, Ted Richich, of New York; Robert Murray, of Sands Point, L.I.; J. Basil McGuire, of Greenwich, Conn.; Charles J. Wood, of Bernardsville, N.J.; Paul Heston, of Washington, and William J. J. Tysie, of Philadelphia, all won their quarter-final brackets, and Francis T. Hunter, the New Rochelle, N.Y., veteran, who was Ed Tilden's doubles partner in their amateur days, was well along the road to victory when darkness halted the eighth third-round match. Hunter was leading Herman Peterson, of Larchmont, N.Y., 1-6, 6-2, 6-3, when their encounter was stopped.

Richards, three times holder of the pro title, came through in brilliant fashion to conquer Edward Faulkner, Philadelphia, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

QUICK KNOCKOUT LANDED BY CURRO

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 27 (AP).—One of the quickest knockouts of boxing history was recorded here last night when Babe Anderson, 149, San Jose, was stopped with exactly one punch, a right cross to the jaw, by Tony Curro, 147, New York. The karo was the lone blow attempted and took but seventeen seconds.

Who's Who With Senators

EARL OLIVER WHITEHILL

EARL OLIVER WHITEHILL, who has been a power from the left side of the mound for the Senators this season, was born in Cedar Rapids, Ia., February 7, 1900.

The 165-pound, five-foot nine-inch southpaw broke into professional baseball with the Birmingham Southern in 1920. After one game, which he lost—he was shipped to the Columbia, S.C., Sally team.

Back in Birmingham the next year Earl did so well he was sold to Detroit. Twice more he visited Birmingham with the Tigers keeping a string on him. In 1924 he came back for good to Detroit and was a Tiger star for nine seasons.

In a trade last December, Whitehill was shipped to Washington. This season he has had the best year of his major league career. He will start a game or two in the world series.

Who's Who With Senators

OSWALD BLUEGE

OSWALD BLUEGE, regarded as the best third baseman in the American League, was born in Chicago, Ill., October 24, 1900.

In early childhood physicians warned Ossie's parents that the boy refrain from violent exercise because of his delicate health. However, Bluege loved baseball so that he played the game, anyway. And it hasn't hurt him.

As a kid in his teens Ossie played for a Chicago Lutheran seminary and for semi-pro teams. In 1920 he joined the Peoria, Ill., Three-I team. Two years later Washington bought him for $2,500.

After one year of seasoning with the Minneapolis, Minn., American Association team, Ossie became a Washington regular and has played with the Senators since. He weighs 160 pounds, is five feet ten inches tall, bats, throws right-handed.

LOUGHRAN WINS DECISION OVER JACK SHARKEY

Philadelphia Boxer Scores Victory in Exciting Struggle

Loughran Floors Former Heavyweight Champion for No Count in Tenth Round, With Right to Chin, for Only Knockdown of Bout—10,000 Watch Battle

By EDWARD J. NEIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
BAKER FIELD, PHILA., Sept. 27 (AP).—The revenge Tommy Loughran has lived for through four troublesome years came sweetly to him tonight as he jabbed out a fifteen-round decision over fading Jack Sharkey, and even managed to batter to the floor the man who knocked him out in three rounds in 1929.

Before a home crowd of no more than 10,000, making up what it lacked in numbers by lusty vocal effort, the fleet Philadelphia boxer courageously stood up under a terrific body bombardment, boxed his way out of one trying moment after another, and then stunned the gathering by dropping Sharkey to his knees in the tenth with a right-hand smash to the chin.

In fact it was this amazing punch, probably the hardest a Loughran fanned for anything but his hitting, ever delivered, that gave Tommy the decision. The two judges, Al Veece and Herman Weinert, were divided in their opinions, the first voting for Sharkey, the second for Loughran.

KNOCKDOWN DECISIVE
 Referee "Spud" Murphy scored the rounds evenly, giving Loughran six, Sharkey six, and calling three even, but his deciding vote was for Loughran because of the knockdown.

It was a far more thrilling duel than their first meeting in the Yankee Stadium four years ago, when a chance at the heavyweight championship hung in the balance. A punching fury that night, Sharkey caught Loughran in a corner in the third round and feuded him with an overhand to the temple. Tommy went down, came up at five, and wandered aimlessly about the ring, seeking a chair. Lou Magallon, the referee, halted that one right there.

But tonight, a thirty-one-year-old Loughran had the guile to evade an identical punch in almost the same moment of the same round in the corresponding corner, endurance to stand up under Sharkey's terrific body battering, and the courage to keep going after the sailor's first real punch, a left hook to the head, opened a gash in his right eyebrow.

CLOSE ENCOUNTER
 Loughran's margin was desperately close and many of the critics counting the astonishing knockdown merely as an incident in one round, gave Sharkey an edge over the route. But narrow and controversial though the margin was, it was enough to count the Boston sailorman, knocked out of his championship by Primo Carnera in June, walloped by King Levinisky in Chicago ten days ago, out of the major heavyweight picture.

Time and again Sharkey had Loughran in distress. But almost every bit of the way, Loughran played tag with the man who boasted that here was one fellow he always could lick, no matter how old he got, how far he slipped.

The boxing skill that carried Loughran to the light-heavyweight championship, and has made him one of the toughest of the heavyweights to whip, counted heavily in his favor.

The gate receipts were not expected to count high enough to cover Sharkey's $25,000 guarantee and there was little prospect that Loughran would receive anything but revenge for his greatest effort.

J.B.A.A. Enters

Junior Squad in Suburban League

The J.B.A.A. junior oarsmen have organized a basketball team and will compete in the Saanich and Suburban League this season. The youngsters will compete in the intermediate "B" division and have lined up a strong squad with hopes of lifting the honors. Bill Clarke was chosen manager, while Joe Spark will act as captain, and Fred Crouch as vice-captain. Ed Stan-dill will look after the social end of the team, arranging dances and other functions during the season.

The game opened the football season for both clubs.

Carl Hubbell Scores 23rd Win of Year

Giants' Mound Ace Turns Back Phillies—Athletics Clinch Third Place

NATIONAL LEAGUE
 NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).—Bill Terry gave his two pitching aces, Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher, their final workouts for the world series today, but the best New York Giants could do was an even break in a double-header with the Phillies. Carl Hubbell, picked to hurl the first game of the series against the Senators, won the opening contest, 3-1, for his twenty-third victory of the year and the 100th of his major league career.

Hal Schumacher, young right-hander, who probably will pitch the second game, was not so fortunate, however, falling before the slugger Phils, 6-0, as Frank Pearce held the National League champions, many of them second string players, to eight scattered runs.

Home runs by Fritz Grutz and George Davis pulled Hubbell through, and both were needed, as the Giants got only four hits off Reg Grabowski.

Schumacher's offerings were no puzzle to the Phils. They got to him for ten solid hits.

MONTREAL, Sept. 27 (CP).—A stunning setback to 1933 intercollegiate championship hopes for McGill University was administered here tonight when Westward, champions of the Quebec Rugby Football Union (intermediate), defeated McGill's first team, 6-3, in a spirited game under floodlights at the Molson Stadium. The game opened the football season for both clubs.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
 NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).—Bill Terry gave his two pitching aces, Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher, their final workouts for the world series today, but the best New York Giants could do was an even break in a double-header with the Phillies. Carl Hubbell, picked to hurl the first game of the series against the Senators, won the opening contest, 3-1, for his twenty-third victory of the year and the 100th of his major league career.

Hal Schumacher, young right-hander, who probably will pitch the second game, was not so fortunate, however, falling before the slugger Phils, 6-0, as Frank Pearce held the National League champions, many of them second string players, to eight scattered runs.

Home runs by Fritz Grutz and George Davis pulled Hubbell through, and both were needed, as the Giants got only four hits off Reg Grabowski.

Schumacher's offerings were no puzzle to the Phils. They got to him for ten solid hits.

Security Prices Slump Again at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).—Stocks took another flop today as the inflation barometer sagged. Except for wheat and Government securities, markets looked unenthusiastic. Highest grade bonds were fairly steady.

The stock list was under pressure all day, except for a brief period around mid-afternoon, when wheat's upturn brought a rally from earlier lows. Sains totaled 2,308,246 shares.

Losses of roughly 2 to 3 points appeared for United States Steel, American Telephone, Bethlehem, American Can, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific, Western Union, Case, Chrysler, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, Sears, Roebuck, National Steel, American Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, Juncos, McIntyre, United States Smelting and several others. Oils also dropped, Seaboard losing more than 4 points. Santa Fe lost 1-1/2 and the volatile Homestake skidded 24 points.

Bonds followed diverse paths, with the highest grade maturities maintaining a steady firm position while secondary, or speculative, loans were heavy throughout.

Foreign obligations were mixed.

WHEAT DROPS ANOTHER CENT

Steady Liquidation at Winnipeg Pushes Values Lower—Export Sales Fair

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27 (CP).—Steady liquidation of "long" accounts of tired holders of wheat futures pushed wheat prices down in the closing stages of today's trading on the Grain Exchange. Final quotations were 11-1/4 to 1 cent below yesterday's finish, with October at 63, November at 63 3/8, December at 64 1/4 and May at 69 cents.

Despite an upturn at Chicago, which imparted a firming tendency here after mid-session, prices offered little resistance to the late selling wave. The Southern market firmed on reports that President Roosevelt would shortly make a statement favoring sound money and possibly announce a balanced budget.

Export business estimated 750,000 bushels, coupled with a drying-up of offerings, aided the mid-session rise from the low points. The session was quite active.

Liverpool wheat finished 13-8 to 15-8d lower and was a weakening factor in the early trade, while commission houses were noticeably on the selling side. The late session was quiet.

"A THORN IN YOUR SIDE"

People who do not profess erudite or learned conversation do constantly in modern speech refer to a person or thing that is irritating, a perpetual source of annoyance, as being a thorn in their side. The original form of the phrase is "a thorn in the flesh," and it comes to use from the Bible. It is in the Second Epistle of Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians that we find: "And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure."

"Patience and perseverance will accomplish all things," said a passenger in a railway compartment. "Nonsense, sir!" said a fellow-passenger. "Will patience and perseverance enable you to carry water in a sieve?" "Certainly." "I would like to know how?" "Simply by waiting patiently for the water to freeze."

MARK SPOT OF FIERCE BATTLE

Bloody Creek Scene of Two Fights Between Acadians and British

BRIDGETOWN, N.S., Sept. 27 (CP).—Sanguinary encounters which claimed toll of French and British lives at Bloody Creek while a gallant British garrison held Annapolis, are commemorated in a tablet erected here by the Canadian Historic Sites and Monuments Board.

Old bitterness surrounding the two engagements is forgotten now, and descendants of the two nations till the fertile Annapolis Valley soil in harmony. But dissension was rife in those early days of Nova Scotia's history as commemorated in a tablet erected here by the Canadian Historic Sites and Monuments Board.

And so on June 10, 1713, when several soldiers who had left the garrison in small boats became separated from the main party, it is not surprising they were ambushed by armed Acadians and Indians resentful of British invasion. Some of the soldiers were killed, others held for ransom and as hostages.

CHANGED ATTITUDE
The incident changed the attitude of the Acadians from sullen resentment into open and active defiance. In the years that followed the French expulsion roving bands of Acadians scoured the country seeking revenge for the dispossession of their countrymen. They appeared near garrison posts on occasion and picked off stragglers, and harassed the English in other ways.

Efforts were made from time to time to wipe out the bands, but the dense forests gave the Acadians shelter from their enemies. The British decided upon their most determined effort in December of 1758, and sent a strong body of soldiers to Bloody Creek, where a large number of French were said to be in hiding.

But the Acadians had been forewarned, and they were waiting. As the soldiers attempted to cross a small plank bridge in single file, a deadly fire poured from the nearby bushes, and they fell back with losses. Reorganized, they again tried to cross, and this time were successful. The Acadians were losing seven men. Eighteen of the garrison troops were killed outright, or left to die of wounds on the creek shore.

One afternoon, in the vicinity of Lake Minnewanka, the two young men started out to visit campers who were near by. On the way, they came across a grisly bear with her two one-year-old cubs eating berries. The boys had stopped to watch them, and suddenly, one of the cubs, catching the scent of humans, was so surprised that it fell backwards. The mother bear charged them and the boys began to run for their lives. For nearly 200 yards they raced down a steep mountain trail, William was slightly ahead. He turned round once, and saw the bear close on the heels of his friend.

At last he could run no farther, so he branched off the trail and ran towards the lake, continuing straight in to the water until he was up to his neck. Mr. Leacock ran on for some yards, then he, too, decided to go into the lake. The bear came to the shore, and then grunting and growling, she went back to her cubs. Afraid to leave their watery safety zone, the young men were obliged to remain in the water until they were picked up by a passing boat.

Jones was spending his Summer holiday at a small seaside fishing village. Returning to his boarding house on the first day after a tour of the beauty spots, he got into conversation with a young fellow boarder.

"Well," he said, "I have had my first look round and have at once been struck by the beauty of the place."

The young fellow looked a trifle dazed.

"Och, old chap," he said, "you're a quick worker. It took me three days to find her, and she handed me a terrific wallop, too."

Mrs. Johnson had gone away from home, leaving Mr. Johnson behind, too busy to be able to leave town just then. On arriving at her destination she missed a gold pin, and wrote to the servant asking the girl to let her know if she had found anything on the dining-room floor. From the servant she received the reply:—"When sweeping the dining-room floor this morning I found thirty matches, four corks and a pack of cards!"

Little Bedtime Stories

A Fat Beetle Helps Peter

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Such a thing as the possibility that he ever would or could be grateful to a fat beetle never had entered Peter Rabbit's head. If anyone had suggested such a thing Peter would have laughed. Yet that is exactly what came to pass. It seems funny to Peter even now, but it is so.

You see, when Peter told Jimmy Skunk the truth about what he knew of the eggs of Mrs. Slowpoke the fox turtle he felt greatly relieved. He thought that the fact that the rain drops had so beaten down the place where Mrs. Slowpoke had dug the hole in which her eggs were buried that he, Peter, could no longer tell exactly where it was, would make Jimmy Skunk think it quite useless to hunt any more. So when Jimmy commanded him to lead the way as near to the spot as he could, Peter was very much upset.

Now it happened that they were very close to the spot. In fact, where they were sitting was within two good jumps of the place where those eggs were buried. Peter knew that, though he couldn't tell Jimmy the exact spot, it wouldn't greatly matter. Knowing that he was very close to it, Jimmy would just dig around until he found it. Peter was in a bad fix. He certainly was.

"I'll have to pretend that it is somewhere where it isn't," thought Peter, and turned about as if to go back in the direction he had just come from.

"That won't do, Peter. You can't fool me that easily. You weren't

"A beetle! A fat beetle!" cried Jimmy looking in that direction when I first saw you. Now show me as near to that place as you can or you will be the sorriest rabbit ever lived."

There was something in Jimmy's voice that sent little cold chills chasing each other all over Peter. It was plain that Jimmy wasn't to be fooled that way.

"I've just got to show him. There's no help for it. I've got to show him," thought Peter. "Then he'll dig around until he finds those eggs and—I wish I had kept away from here!"

He looked this way and that way as he prepared to do what he knew he had to do. It was as if he hoped to find help somewhere. He didn't, because he couldn't imagine anyone or anything that could help him. Way off to one side a leaf moved. Something darted out from under it and disappeared under another leaf. Instantly Peter's curiosity was aroused. He forgot Jimmy Skunk. Abruptly he sat up very straight in order to see better. Jimmy Skunk turned to see what Peter was staring at.

Just then that leaf under which Peter had seen something disappear moved a wee bit and from under it darted across to an old piece of bark lying on the ground and vanished under it. Such a change as came over Jimmy Skunk. Seldom, very seldom, had Peter seen Jimmy hurry, but he saw him hurry this time.

"A beetle! A fat beetle!" cried Jimmy and darted across to that old piece of bark.

This was Peter's chance. He didn't wait to see Jimmy turn that piece of bark over and then scramble after half a dozen fat beetles. No indeed, Peter didn't wait. This was his chance and he took to his heels. Littery-littery-lip he raced home to the dear Old Briar Patch.

"I'm sorry for that fat beetle," thought Peter. "I certainly am sorry for him, but I'm awfully grateful. He certainly did help me out of a bad place that time. Now I'll keep away from that place where Mrs. Slowpoke's eggs are buried. If Jimmy Skunk finds them I can't help it."

Peter was as good as his word. He did keep away, and Jimmy Skunk didn't find those eggs. So in the right and proper time a lot of funny little Slowpokes dug their way out of the sand and started out to make their way in the Great World. It was quite as Peter hoped it would be.

They always taught me to save a string. A thrifty-inducing caper. But how can I run true to form when stores now use gummed paper!
